SECOND TERM OF SHORT COURSE

At The College of Agriculture
January 3 to February 26.

The second term of the Short Course, one of the big features of the College of Agriculture's service to farmers, begins January 3 and closes February 26. This is a time when work on the farm is not so heavy and the students can complete this term and return to their homes before the busy spring work begins.

This work is open to any student who has a common school education and who is more than sixteen years old. The work is designed to meet the needs of those who have not had the opportunity to complete a four high school education and will equip them with a knowledge of farm problems of greater value than could be worked out in their community in a lifetime.

Upon the satisfactory completion of four terms of work, comprising two years, a certificate, signed by the President of the University and the Dean of the College of Agriculture, will be received by the student.

There is no tuition. Only a library, hospital and incidental fee of $15 is charged, which entitles the student to the library books, free hospital and medical attention while in school. Adding the cost of room and board to this with a few minor fees in different courses any student can take advantage of this exceptional opportunity for an agricultural education for a $100 term or $200 for the entire year.

Farmers' Week, January 17 to 21 inclusive, the greatest assemblage of farmers in the United States, will be held during this second term. This program, in which the State Board of Agriculture and other farmers' organizations are cooperating with the College of Agriculture in securing speakers of national and international reputation will offer all its advantages to the Short Course students.

The Fourteenth Annual Livestock Judging Contest for Short Course students will be held at the close of the second term in February, 1921. These are some of the prizes offered to the Short Course students who excel in livestock judging: The Rotermund Percheron Medal to the best judge of horses, the Rinehart Mule Medal to the best judge of mules, the Richards Poland China Medal to the best judge of swine and the Good Donald Hereford Farm Medal to the best judge of beef cattle.

An agriculture education is a thing to be coveted by every farmer boy. It enables him to raise the quality of his product and thereby increase his income. The College of Agriculture investigated 554 farmers' income in one Missouri county and found that the educated farmers' income was 71.4 per cent larger than that of the untrained farmer. The same general fact has been found to be true by other agricultural colleges and by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

For further information, write the Superintendent of the Short Course, College of Agriculture, University of Missouri, Columbia.

Miss Marie Hale, who is teaching in Rowland Hall, Salt Lake City, Utah, arrived home Friday night to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Hale.

To You and Yours

OUR CHRISTMAS WISH

IT REQUIRES not the occasion of Christmas with its joys, cheer and prevalent good will, to arouse in us a sense of the appreciation due patrons of this paper.

In our hearts and minds are gratitude and good thoughts for you during every day of the year; but Christmas hallows our sentiments and makes their expression fitting and timely.

Such as we have accomplished and such good as may be traceable to our efforts would not have been possible without your sustaining power and co-operation. If in any sense we have upheld a beacon, you have supplied oil for the lamp. If ours has been a chariot, yours has been the motive element which has kept it on its way.

All characters appealing to or endeavoring to entertain the public, must be given a certain meed of applause or they cannot exist. With those engaged in publishing a newspaper, the applause comes in the interest which readers manifest in its columns and in an occasional word of approval. The practical help of subscribers and advertisers has enabled us to maintain a publication standard; their encouragement has furnished the degree of pleasure necessary as an incentive to our daily tasks.

May the spirit of Christmas work for you the full degree of its bountifulness. May you be enabled to get the same amount of pleasure and benefit from these columns that we have derived from making them.

WENTWORTH WINS BASKET BALL GAME

Sedalia High First Victim in a
20 to 18 Defeat.

The basket ball season at Wentworth began rather auspiciously Friday night when the cadet five nosed out the Sedalia Highs, 20 to 18. Neither team had much to offer in the way of team work, but as the individual members of the cadet team showed more class, the game went to them. The game was rather slow, especially in the first half. In the second half it speeded up considerably and became more interesting.

For Wentworth, Walter, Fanning, Wenner, Hand, and Pratt showed evidence of the right sort to make skilled players. They have action that when properly trained and directed will make them dangerous in any company they will be called up to meet.

Robt. J. Sims of Kansas City, arrived Wednesday for a few days' visit.

The bullet entered the right side of her head and was removed from just above the right eye.

Dr. and Mrs. J. C. Snyder of Macon, Mo., announce the birth of a daughter Wednesday, December 22, in Kirksville, Mo. Mrs. Snyder was formerly Miss Agnes Wilson of this city.
